Arabian Cross Bay Mare

$ 4,500

Description

Bunny is easy to catch, loads well in the trailer and will stand tied quietly all day long. Bunny stands to be saddled, bridled and great for the vet and farrier. She is not marish and gets along with pony's, geldings,mares and has also been in with cows. Bunny rides bareback and double. She is the type that can sit up for months and be the same exact horse as she was the last time she was rode. Bunny neck reins, backs, side passes and has a heck of a stop. She is really soft in the mouth, and has a nice little headset. This little mare has been ridden by the 9 year old little girl the entire time we've had her. She will cross water, ride through thick brush, up and down steep hills, through ditches and has been ridden on the highway. Bunny will go anywhere you point her head, she is not spooky and very easy to handle. She even jumped a deer in the video and she paid it no attention. She doesn't mind the ATV riding beside her and dogs underneath her feet.Bunny does know the barrel pattern, has done poles and used for play day events. She will also drag a tire and doesn't mind a tarp.This little horse is what everyone is looking for. She would be an awesome step up horse. Bunny would do great as a trail horse or play day horse. Take her and have fun at the shows one day and trail ride her the next. We think a lot of this little mare and want her to go to a forever home where she will be loved and taken very well care of. The only thing that that we have seen with her is she will sometimes walk off when being mounted.
